INCENDO SCREENWRITERS WIN TELEVISION MOVIE LEO AWARD

Montreal, June 6th 2017 – Incendo, Canadian leader in television production and distribution based in Montreal, is very proud to announce that recurring screenwriters Doug Barber and James Phillips won the 2017 Leo Award in the Television Movie – Screenwriting category for their work on SWEPT UNDER. The Incendo production was shot in Montreal in 2015. The Leo Awards are the awards program for the British Columbia film and television industry. Winners were announced on Sunday June 4th at the Gala Awards Ceremony in Vancouver.

SWEPT UNDER: Meet Morgan. At first glance, she's just your average cleaning lady. She has no problem getting her hands dirty, which is a good thing considering it's not fancy houses she cleans for a living - it's gruesome crime scenes. It's at one of these scenes that Morgan discovers a key piece of evidence overlooked by the forensics team. This, and her knack for reading blood splatter, catch Nick's attention, a newbie detective working the case. The pair soon become unofficial partners on what's become a stream of related murders and the closer they get to solving the mystery the closer they get to each other. But while they succeed in getting a confession from their primary suspect, their feelings for each other risk blinding them to the truth and they find themselves dangerously close to the real killer.
