› MAY 2020 ISSUE

WELCOME

Welcome to May's newsletter.

In opening this newsletter, I am glad we made the move from level 3 to level 2 and that things are moving in the direction we hoped for. As with previous shifts in alert levels, we released another position statement to help guide our members in how to operate in the revised alert conditions. All position statements can be found on the website www.fpanz.org

ONLINE RESOURCES

During the lockdown, it became clear that we needed to focus more on the online delivery of information to our members. Many companies had to rapidly change their delivery methods, and I am pleased we were already working on improving our engagement with these modes before lockdown.

We have now completed several zoom-based seminars as follow-ups to the Get it Right seminars we held before lockdown. We continue to fine tune how we deliver content and other aspects of these meetings, and they are being well received. Expect to see an increase in the delivery of training and informative sessions via these mediums in the future as we plan to offer a combination of stand-alone sessions and supplements to the in-person training sessions we will offer once restrictions on numbers allowed at physical meetings ease.

Scott Lawson

We have also shifted all special interest group (SIG) meetings to zoom meetings, and we have noted a positive spin off in that engagement with members living in more remote areas of New Zealand has increased. As such, these meetings have become even more representative of our geographically diverse membership base. While some physical meetings will still be necessary, particularly for working groups that need more in-person interaction, many online SIG meetings are likely to remain with us.

GET IT RIGHT SEMINARS TO RESUME SOON

If you booked for the last sprinkler seminars, two of which were cancelled because of the COVID-19 lockdown, you will be pleased to know we are already exploring our options to rebook them soon. If you were already booked, we will contact you with the new dates once they're confirmed. If you were not booked but would like to attend the next sprinkler Get it Right seminars, then please drop us an email so we can add you to the contact list.

We are also working on some shorter half-day sessions to provide members with more detail on the changes to NZS4541 that have just been released. These sessions will also be delivered via zoom for those outside the main centres of New Zealand.

The topic for the next sessions is gas flooding systems, which will be a more in-depth full-day session. As this is a very specific topic and audience numbers are likely to be limited, the seminars will only be held in Auckland, Wellington and Christchurch and are subject to enough enrolments.

MEMBERS' MEETINGS

Several members' meetings were in the process of being booked prior to the lockdown, so we are also working to reschedule these in the coming weeks to get things back on track. Each of these meetings will be 2–3 hours, during which we will present a general update for members, and one or two subject matter experts will also provide updates and answer questions. These are also always a great chance for some industry networking. We will send out a schedule for these members' meetings just as soon as we can confirm arrangements and as rules around gatherings permit.

RENEWAL OF MEMBERSHIP FOR 2020–2021 FY

Our financial year finishes at the end of June 2020, and with that, the new membership year will start. Over the next few weeks, FPANZ representatives will phone as many members as possible to touch base and hear about the impact of lockdown and other related flow-on effects on our members' daily operations. This will help us adjust our focus and direction to areas of most importance to our members.

We have already begun this process, and it is clear that some of our previous plans, including the industry awareness and school leaver recruitment position, need to be put on hold and reassessed so they best fit the post-COVID-19 environment we now face. Feedback from members will be essential as we modify our plans for the next financial year to best support our members.

MEMBERSHIP APPLICATIONS

During lockdown, we temporarily suspended the processing of all new memberships. While we operated remotely and dealt with the significantly increased workload to ensure we met the needs of our members, we felt our focus should be on supporting current financial members and their immediate priorities. We do have a small backlog of new members to process and will recommence this in the next couple of weeks in time for the new financial year. We apologise to our new prospective members for this delay, and we trust you can appreciate the reason for it.

In closing this month, our focus remains on our continued support of members during the challenging times ahead. We are ensuring that we are working on and advocating in relation to minor work consents, qualifications, vocational education and training, fire industry standards, codes of practice, industry position statements and government subsidies relief for industries, to name just a few. We lobby on behalf of industry to free our members up to get on with their daily operations knowing there is a strong body advocating on their behalf.

Regards,
Scott Lawson

HOFFE SIG Update

› Author Steve Smith – HOFFE SIG Chair

Hi folks,

I hope that like myself you are enjoying our newly reclaimed freedoms and haven't found the lockdown phases too hard. It is an interesting commercial environment we operate in, but it has also given many people an unexpected break, time to relax (maybe too much), catch up on odd jobs at home and a chance to better prepare for the remainder of the year.

While the environment we are operating in is uncertain and changing fairly regularly at present I still believe that we should take a conservative approach even during the now permitted annual service procedures. At least until we are back to our pre-COVID-19 normal and follow the precautionary procedures as laid out in the governments published level 2 guidelines including hand washing and the contact lists. Compared to many overseas nations we have done well, and many industries could end up sitting in a good position compared to companies producing similar products in rival nations.

While not necessarily adding tangible value to the site visit there is also a value in being seen to act responsibly, this gains the clients trust and demonstrates to the client that you are a responsible operator looking after the interests of both your clients and your employees. Hopefully the information may not be needed but if it is then the contact tracing information may save a lot of frustration for everyone. On the plus side many of the service companies I have spoken to are busy, a few of their clients are saying come back later but most clients aren't saying don't come back, I figure this is still good news!

Going forward we are unsure at the time of writing this exactly how things will unfold but we hope to have a catchup HOFFE group meeting in the near future so with any luck we can regain some normality. At present we have a few agenda items the main one being the Service Code of Practice which is waiting to be signed off. Our next scheduled HOFFE group meeting is at the Ponsonby Cruising Club on the 17th July, we look forward to seeing you then if not before.

Have a great month

Kind regards,

Steve Smith,

Passive Fire Protection SIG Update

» Author Justin McEntyre – Passive Fire Protection SIG Chair

QUALITY MUST REMAIN OUR PRIORITY

In the past fortnight we have kickstarted our Fire & Smoke Stopping Code of Practice working group which is a really a positive initiative that the Passive Fire SIG will develop and deliver for industry. We have collaboration from inside the SIG as well as MBIE, Councils, NZIA, Insurance Council, SFPE, FENZ, IFE, GIB and BRANZ. This is a level of collaboration from the wider industry that hasn't occurred previously and is a sign of the central role FPANZ plays for the industry in NZ and how much of an essential aspect of building compliance the wider industry sees for Passive Fire. Joe Gilmartin from Holmes Fire will Chair this Working Group which means we are all in capable hands.

As we enter uncertain times in the construction industry, I do have a concern that all of the good that has been delivered in the Passive Fire industry over the past 4 years could be at risk of being undone by poor control of quality through cost cutting.

Tough times in construction tend to promote cost cutting, cowboys and DIY. This will hurt our industry and all of the good that has been achieved. Therefore, it is imperative that we maintain our position and keep the focus on Quality and Compliance.

There will be a greater dependence on Fire Engineers, Third Party Inspectors and Councils to ensure the level of Quality and Compliance is maintained to the highest standard. These are the Gate keepers to ensure standards don't slip and that poor quality and non-compliance isn't allowed to prosper.

We will continue to work toward a position where Passive Fire is a recognised Specialist Trade with restricted activity. As we work toward this goal the operators that chose to invest in training, testing, quality and doing things right will be rewarded in the end and the cowboys will be found out.

Kind Regards,

- Justin McEntyre

Evacuation Consultants SIG Update

» Author Phil Jackson – Evacuation Consultants SIG Chair

This month our SIG has discussed some of the changes around NZ4512 alarm standard and fed this back to the committee - if you haven't already done so please take the opportunity to complete the survey that has been sent out to you.

For those of you that hold the certified evacuation consultant qualification, please be reminded that your renewal application must be due back before the end of May. If you do not hold the qualification and are interested in finding out more about it, please contact the FPA directly.

The use of Zoom has proved successful for our SIG meetings. No matter where you are located in the country, you are welcome to attend. We are lining up some interesting guest speakers for the SIG meetings this year - please check the agenda for more information.

- Phil Jackson
